

GENERAL INFORMATION (continued)

Many courses are filled at an early date; therefore, early application is advised, but January 17, 1973, is the deadline.

Tuition Fees: $60.00 per course

Class Size: Registration in each course will be limited to approximately 20.

Course Location: Classes will meet in the Faculty of Social Work, University of Toronto, 246 Bloor Street West, Toronto.

Admission to Classrooms: The official University receipt, which the student receives upon registration, must be presented for admittance to classrooms.

Refunds: Requests for refunds must be made before the second class of the course. Such requests must be presented either in person or in writing to the Division of University Extension, 119 St. George Street, Room 311, accompanied by the official University receipt. An administrative fee of $10.00 is charged for all such refunds. A student is considered to be a member of a class until he has officially withdrawn and his withdrawal has been accepted. Non-attendance at classes, by itself, does not constitute official withdrawal.

Withdrawal of Courses: The Division of University Extension reserves the right to withdraw any course listed in this programme. Where a course is withdrawn, the full tuition fee is refunded to registrants.

Recognition: These courses do not lead to a university degree, diploma or certificate.

Classroom attendance does not, by itself, constitute a means of evaluation. Instructors are not required to check attendance and letters cannot be issued to certify individual attendance in a particular course.

Telephone: For further information, telephone 928-2400.

CONTINUING EDUCATION IN SOCIAL WORK - January 1973

COMMUNITY PRACTICE - FACT, FAD OR FICTION?

A basic grounding in the core concepts of community practice for all fields of service will be provided in this course. There will be an examination of the roles of a community practice worker, models of community practice and the development of agency-based practice. Although the major focus will be on urban problems and analysis, examples from rural Canada will also be discussed. Course content will be directed to practitioners in positions where there is a community component. Leader - Terence Lee, M.S.W., Lecturer, Faculty of Social Work, teaching in the community practice sequence. Practice experience in settlement houses, provincial psychiatric hospitals, the Clarke Institute of Psychiatry and the Chedoke-McMaster Community Psychiatry Programme.

Tuesdays, 7.30 - 9.30 pm

10 sessions, January 23 to March 27, 1973

SERVICES TO YOUTH

Who needs service? What kinds of service are viable? How do we involve youth? What are the current themes of the 'youth culture'? These and other questions including participants' own will be examined against treatment practice in terms of the relevant knowledge base, intervention and service delivery. The focus will be the development of guidelines for structure, strategies and goals of service.

The course will employ a seminar format with participation and sharing of experiences expected. The content should have application to direct practice and programming in any agency serving youth.

Leader - William Vine, M.S.W., Teaching Assistant and Doctoral Candidate, Faculty of Social Work; Lecturer, George Brown College. Mr. Vine's practice experience has focused on both traditional and innovative strategies in meeting the changing needs of youth.

Wednesdays, 7.30 - 9.30 pm

10 sessions, January 24 to March 28, 1973

MARRIAGE COUNSELLING

This course will focus on the marital relationship. When this relationship is looked at as a social system it becomes more than the sum total of the parts. Role, transactional and communication theories will be examined to better understand and work with the marital system.

Role playing, written records and audio-visual aids will be used as teaching tools. Participants should be currently engaged in practice directed to preventing break-down, improving functioning or repairing break-down in the marital relationship.

Leader - Margaret Doolan, Dip. S.W., M.S.W., Associate Professor, Faculty of Social Work. Chairman of concentration, 'practice with individuals, families and small groups'. Past and current practice experience with a range of married couples and families.

Thursdays, 7.30 - 9.30 pm

10 sessions, January 25 to March 29, 1973

GENERAL INFORMATION

Admission Requirements: The presently announced courses are primarily up-grading or refresher courses for practitioners in the field. Therefore, applications from social work practitioners with a professional social work degree will receive first consideration. Others may be accepted, however, where class places are available.

Application Procedures: Application may be made by mail or in person by completing the attached form. The Division of University Extension, Room 101, 119 St. George Street, is open from 9.00 am to 9.00 pm Monday through Thursday and from 9.00 am to 5.00 pm on Fridays to receive applications.

Fees must be paid in advance, and cheques or money orders made payable to the University of Toronto.
